

Decibel

Ensemble-in-Residence 2010
School of Creative Arts

Formed in 2002 as a collective of performers and composers, decibel perform new and experimental work which generally exists between, or miles outside, the usual unhelpful categories used today.

Under the direction of composer Ed Bennett, the group are renowned for their innovative performances—often combining live instrumental music with electronics—and the diversity of their musical influences.

As part of their residency at the School of Creative Arts, decibel will perform two public concerts.

Tues 2 Mar, 1.15pm
The Great Hall, Magee campus

Lunchtime concert featuring music by Ed Bennett, Joe Cutler and Louis Andriessen (and more!)
Admission: £3/free for University of Ulster students

Thurs 4 Mar, 8.00pm
Void Gallery, Patrick St, Derry

An evening of acoustic and electronic music (+support from DEME, the School of Creative Arts' own interdisciplinary collective) Admission: £5/£3 conc.

In association with

Decibel

Ensemble-in-Residence 2010
School of Creative Arts

For further information contact
the Cultural Development
Office on (028) 7137 5658
or n.pearce@ulster.ac.uk

Supported by the Cultural Development Support Scheme.

