Sealbhú

Bhí na colúir ann romham;
seilbh acu ar leac na fuinneoige
is ar gháitéir an tí.

Dhúisidís ar maidin mé lena ndúrdáil,
a gcuid súl á ruachan
lastall den gcuirtín.

Chaithinn iad a ruaigeadh.
Adhmaím gur thug cleatar giorraisc a sciathán
sásamh dorcha dom.

Maidin amháin ní colmán a bhí romham
ach fiolar,
a chrága ar an gcófra tarraiceán.

B'éigean uisce coisricthe — buidéal de —
a chaitheamh ina threo
chun é a dhíbirt.

Músclaím.
Tá brat cleití sa chlós.
Tá corracú i gcónaí im chluas.

Possession

There they were, the pigeons,
in possession of the window sill,
of all the house's gutters.

Their cooing brings me to every morning,
their rust-red eyes
beyond the curtain.

They've got to go,
though I admit the snapping chatter of
their wings
brings a black satisfaction.

One morning was pigeonless
but instead an eagle's talons
gripped the dresser.

It took holy water —
an entire bottle cast in its direction —
to banish it.

I'm awake.
The yard boasts a cloak of feathers.
There's cooing always in my ears.

Nóta ón gCumadóir

Cruthaíonn Ní Ghearbhuigh saol a aithnímid gan dua. Seasann gnáthcholúir ar leaca na bhfuinneog, ag plobaireacht agus ag faire amach. Tá macalla den fhuaim uathu le sonrú i ngluaiseacht armónach an cheoil agus sa líne lúbach. An bhfuil siad ag seasamh dúinne, ag fanacht agus ag faire amach? Pléasctar an radharc simplí nuair a ghreadann an t-iolar isteach agus déanann scrios ar na mionchréatúir. Fórsa neamhghnáth atá sa siombal seo. Athraíonn an creachadóir seo an fuinneamh agus an móimeantam. Osclaíonn an líne ghutha nua-láidir, meallta ag an gcréatúr cumhachtach seo. Fágтар an ceol neamhréitithe, ag dul go hiomlán in éag.

Composer's Note

Ní Ghearbhuigh paints a world of the familiar. The common pigeons take their stance on windowsills, aimlessly cooing and watching. There is a repetition to their sound depicted in the music's recurring harmonic movement and sinuous line. Are they representative of ourselves waiting and watching? The simple image is unexpectedly smashed by the appearance of the eagle who desecrates the smaller creatures. It symbolises a force beyond the norm. This predatory hunter shifts the energy and momentum. The newly forceful vocal line opens, drawn in kinship to this powerful creature. The music remains unresolved fading to nothing.

Nótaí Scóir

Sa scór seo a leanas tá trí líne de théacs faoin gcliath gutha. Sa líne ar barr tá téacs an amhráin – an fhilíocht. An líne sa lár – seo an tras-scriobh IPA mar threoír fhuaimnithe d'amhránaithe nach bhfuil Gaeilge ar a dtoil acu. Sa líne ar bun tá aistriúchán focal ar fhocal (i gcló iodálach) tugtha den fhilíocht. Tugann sé seo nod d'amhránaithe faoi bhrí agus béim na bhfocal.

Tá na tempi uilig cruinn.

Score Notes

In the following score there are three lines of text under the vocal stave. The top line is the song's text – the poetry. The middle line contains an IPA transcription as a guide for those singers unfamiliar with the Irish language. The bottom line is a word-for-word translation (in italics) of the poetry. This gives a hint to singers about the meaning and emphasis of the text.

All tempi are exact.

Emigrante

An chéad fhómhar di
sa Domhan Úr
bhí fonn uirthi an uile ní
a ainmniú

nó an rud a bhrath
lena méar: caonach,
coirt fhliuch na gcrann,
mogall cnó capaill

a raibh an taobh istigh de
chomh bogmhín
agus maoth
léi féin . . .

nó gur sháigh a máthair
a ceann amach
fuinneog in airde
is do bhéic:

*¡Oye chica, que frío, eh?!
¿Dondé está tu chaqueta?*

Ní raibh uathi anois
ach go slogfaí
sa phuiteach í
go barra a cinn.

San ithir sin
a phácafar í,
as an gcré sin
a fháiscfí í.

Ní bhrisfidh an dúchas
trína súile go brách.

Emigrant

Her very first Fall
in the New World, her main aim
was to call
everything by a name,

to mark
things with her finger — the moss,
the wet tree bark,
the gloss

of a horse chestnut, the innermost
part of which had grown
as tender-moist
as her own . . .

till her mom dared
to stick her head out
of an upstairs
window and shout:

*Hi, Girl, surely you're cold enough?
Did you leave home without your muff?*

Now her greatest desire
was to vanish off the face of the earth, sinking into the mire
and leaving not a trace.

She would put forth a bud
from that patch of earth,
out of that same mud
undergo a total rebirth.

Nothing she carried gene-wise
would ever break through her eyes.

II. Emigrante / Emigrant

Nóta ón gCumadóir

In 'Emigrante', léiríonn Ní Ghearbhuigh íomhánna idir eisdhírtheach agus indíreathach. Tuigtear go bhfuil dearbhú i gceist, agus dúil sa taiscéalaíocht, mar a fhaigheann ár bpearsa taithí ar an 'Domhan Nua', ar mhaith léi é a thuiscint go smior. Ó thaobh an cheoil de, cuirtear é seo in iúl le frásaí muiníneacha agus rithimí neamhrialta chun dúthracht a léiriú. Ansin, ag deireadh an dáin, tarraingítear an phearsa isteach ag féinscrúdú. Athraíonn an ceol go réimniú armónach simplí, mall. Íomhá den chré agus péacáin úra ag borradh, luíonn sé le compord líne an doird neadaithe faoi bhun an ghutha ar foluain os a chionn, ag druidim i dtreo an neamhní.

Composer's Note

In 'Emigrante', Ní Ghearbhuigh presents images of both extrovert and introvert. There is a sense of assertion and hunger for exploration as our protagonist experiences the 'New World', which she wants to absorb fully as her own. Musically this is reflected through confident strides and offbeat rhythms weaving a sense of determination. Then, as the poem closes drawing our protagonist inwards in self-reflection, the music becomes focused as slow paced simple harmonic progression. The image of soil shooting tentative new buds lends itself to the comfort of the solid bass line earthed beneath the floating voice vanishing to nothing.

Nótaí Scóir

Sa scór seo a leanas tá trí líne de théacs faoin gcliath gutha. Sa líne ar barr tá téacs an amhráin – an fhilíocht. An líne sa lár – seo an tras-scríobh IPA mar threoir fhuaimnithe d'amhránaithe nach bhfuil Gaeilge ar a dtóil acu. Sa líne ar bun tá aistriúchán focal ar fhocal (i gcló iodálach) tugtha den fhilíocht. Tugann sé seo nod d'amhránaithe faoi bhri agus béim na bhfocal.

Tá solúbthacht sa cheol seo, agus ruainne den rubato le sonrú, ar nós snagcheoil. Tá na tempi cruinn, ach ní gá a bheith chomh righin agus deireadh na bhfrásaí á mhúnlú.

Score Notes

In the following score there are three lines of text under the vocal staff. The top line is the song's text – the poetry. The middle line contains an IPA transcription as a guide for those singers unfamiliar with the Irish language. The bottom line is a word-for-word translation (in italics) of the poetry. This gives a hint to singers about the meaning and emphasis of the text.

There is a fluidity about the music and it has a slight rubato jazz-like feel. Tempi are exact but ends of phrases can be shaped in a less rigid fashion.

Nóta ón gCumadóir

Is é seo an dán is machnamhaí as na trí cinn, ar ar thugus an teideal An Strainséar Féin orthu. Tá íomhánna an fhile pointeáilte, láidir agus socair. Tá an ceol fréamhaithe i rithim athsheinnte mar choiscéimeanna troma. Tá draíocht ag baint le íomhánna an fhile, agus scáileanna na hoíche agus an dorchadas go forleathan. Tá an ceol éadrom, cosúil le fiolagrán ina ‘chocún’ timpeall ar an amhránaí – ag bogadh de shíor, agus ag athchruthú spáis nua.

Composer's Note

This is the most meditative of the three poems, which I have collectively titled Outsider Self. Ní Ghearbhúigh's imagery is exact, potent and still. The music is weighted by a rhythmic repetition like heavy footsteps. There is a sense of magic to the poet's imagery as the world of night shadows and darkness is all consuming. The music is light, detailed as filigree 'cocooning' the singer. It is constantly shifting and recreating new ground.

Nótaí Scóir
