Per Cent for Art Scheme:

Music Commission Project for Scoil San Phroinsias, Tirellan National School, Galway.

BRIEFING FOR ARTISTS

Deadline for submissions: Monday 12th of August 2019 at 5.30pm

Budget: €27123

PROJECT OVERVIEW

The Board of Management of Tirellan National School, (Scoil San Phroinsias), in association with Music Generation Galway City, wishes to commission a musical artist to deliver a project of learning and creation under the Per Cent for Art Scheme, funded by the Department of Education and Skills. The extension and refurbishment to Scoil San Phroinsais was built by PJ McLoughlin & Sons Ltd, Dublin Road, Longford and designed by Healy Partner Architects, The Mill, Glenworth Street, Limerick.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

Scoil San Phroinsias is a co-educational, Catholic primary school in Galway, with classes from Junior Infants to Sixth class. It is a DEIS urban band 2 school. The school is situated in the Tirellan Heights area and serves the local communities of Tirellan, Ballinfoile, Castlilawn, Sandy Vale, Baile an Choiste, Skelig Ard, Cluain Fada and Lus Leana. There are also pupils from many areas around the city and environs. Currently there are 420 pupils, 35 teaching staff and 7 SNAs in the school.

It is a multinational, multi-linguistic school comprising many nationalities and ethnic groups, a “a slice of life” of the Ireland of today. Our school motto is “mol an óige agus tiocfaidh sí”. We focus on encouraging the children to be their very best person academically, socially and emotionally. We foster a spirit of kindness and respect towards each other.

As well as pursuing a full academic curriculum we have a variety of extra-curricular activities in the school. These change from year to year depending on the needs of the children and the availability of good quality programmes. Some examples of the programmes this school year are yoga, soccer, art therapy, “smartmoves” and play therapy. Our school has a rich history of music involvement. Our children start playing tin whistle from First class and going forward have the opportunity to learn, bell-lyra, accordion, ukulele and percussion. We have a school band that takes part in the Galway city St. Patrick’s Day parade as well as playing for various local occasions throughout the school year. Our school choir has participated in the Cross Border Orchestra and the Peace Proms. Our band and choir are inclusive, all participate.

We are undergoing a period of transition in music in the school due to teacher retirements and this could be a wonderful opportunity to evaluate our current practice and explore other options.

THE COMMISSION

- The commission is open to an artist working in a broad musical context who will readily embrace a process of engagement, learning and creativity with the students, staff and, where applicable, parents, of the school to realise a project(s) which leads to the creation and performance of an original musical work(s) that expresses the core cultural and social identity of the school and its community.
- The commission is open to a single- practitioner or a collaborative application that retains a high standard of musical creativity and outcomes as its core focus. Regular group facilitations/workshops in the school, to be delivered by the artist(s) or a pre-designated artist associate(s), are essential to the delivery of this project.
- The project/work must reflect the ethos and spirit of the school and be cognisant and reflective of its location, setting and cultural wealth. Music literacy among participants should not be a pre-requisite of the feasibility of the project and required facilitations/workshops.
- The potential for this commission to have a lasting outcome of some nature in the school and the community should be considered while also making a strong artistic statement of the artists' own developmental practice that resonates in Galway city.
- Project is to be complete by June 2020, subject to agreement between Artist(s) and school board of management.

A Provisional Date for the public realisation of this project is Sunday June 21st 2020.

Working title for this project is Fête de le cheoil
