Choral/group singing Commissions - Call for proposals

A partnership between Sing Ireland and the Contemporary Music Centre

The YouthSing Ireland project welcomes proposals for original choral/group singing compositions and/or choral/group singing arrangements for use by Children and Young adult voices.

*Deadline for proposals: 5.30pm, Friday 13th December 2020

PROJECT OVERVIEW

The YouthSing Ireland project, funded by the Creative Ireland Programme and led by Sing Ireland in association with the Contemporary Music Centre wishes to commission a number of original choral/group singing compositions and/or choral/group singing arrangements. This series of original choral/group singing compositions and/or choral/group singing arrangements will include settings of text in the Irish language (as Gaeilge) and/or texts and/or melodies which reflect Irish cultural heritage. The resulting series of original compositions and/or arrangements will be used by young people in the formal setting (in schools) and the informal setting (outside of school). It is intended that the resulting music will be then used on a wider scale in schools and communities throughout Ireland.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

YouthSing Ireland is a transformational, developmental and experiential programme for youth group singing in Ireland. It is a delivery mechanism for a core objective of Pillar 1 of the Creative Ireland Programme: that every child in Ireland will have ‘practical access to tuition, experience and participation in music ... by 2022’. See HERE

YouthSing Ireland is also the group singing initiative for children and young people required by Action 9 of Creative Youth – the Pillar 1 action plan published in December 2017.

For further information on the rationale and case for this work please see the following research report: HERE

THE COMMISSION

- The commission is open to an artist working in a broad musical context and with young people’s voices in mind.
- The resulting work(s) are designed for use in schools (initially at primary level) throughout Ireland and should be accompanied by learning resources.
- Regular contact and consultation with Sing Ireland and the Contemporary Music Centre will be required to ensure that the resulting work(s) will respond to the need for age appropriate repertoire across a gradient level of difficulty.
- The work(s) must reflect Irish Cultural Heritage, with a particular emphasis on the Irish language. This may include texts or melodies that have an Irish traditional or cultural significance.
- A central objective of this commission is the potential for the choral work(s) to have a lasting outcome in schools throughout Ireland.

- The text for use in these commissions will be selected in consultation with the YouthSing Ireland Project.
- The completed commissioned work (s) must be submitted to the YouthSing Ireland Project by 1st March, 2020.
- It is envisaged that each work in this series of original choral/group singing compositions and/or choral/group singing arrangements will be between 3 - 5 minutes duration at gradient levels of difficulty

THE COMMISSIONING PROCESS

The selection process for the commissioned works will be made by a panel, based on the proposal supplied by the applicant. Candidates may be invited to discuss their proposal in person with the selection panel but may also be selected based on their proposal.
